Writing Quests – Writing Response Activities

This week, choose at least two of the prompts below and respond in a notebook or on a piece of paper.

- You live alone with your cat and have for quite some time. One day your cat can't take it anymore and starts talking. What does it say?

- Would rather play inside or outside? Create a list of the pros and cons of each. Then write a persuasive essay on why one is better than the other.

- Write a short description to complete the following sentences:
  - I'll never forget the taste of . . .
  - I've never laughed as hard as the time . . .
  - If I could be any animal in the world it would be . . .

- Keep a journal to record your activities and feelings. In the future, it will help you remember what your life was like now. Here are some sentence starters to help you begin:
  - Today is _____ (add the date). This is what I did:
  - Today I feel _____ (add a word to describe how you feel, like happy, excited, bored, frustrated, or any other feeling). I feel this way because . . .

- If you could have any superpower, what would it be and why? Write a paragraph explaining your answer. Then draw a picture of what you'd look like as a superhero!

- Choose your favorite line below, and use it as the start of a fabulous story you'll write:
  - I knew I was in for an incredible time the day my robot started talking.
  - My mom finally agreed to let me get a pet, but how on Earth could I decide which one?
  - You've really never met anyone like Sam.

Source: https://classroommagazines.scholastic.com/support/learnathome/grades-3-5/daily-reading-quest.html